VOLUME XXII

"The whole is equal to the sum of its parts."

In our sophomore year at Sharon High School, the class of 1962 learned this axiom in geometry class. It was a logical, universal concept that anyone could testify to as a practical truth. But the true meaning of this mathematical reality became clear only when we faced graduation as a senior class. Then, we remembered the parts: students, faculty, classes, activities and athletics; the whole: Sharon High School. Each is separate and important, but we of the class of '62 also remember another axiom, one to which we have dedicated ourselves in the past four years—"The whole is GREATER than any of its parts."

To you, Otto Latzel, we dedicate the Marsengold 1962. You are the symbol of Sharon High School, the symbol of friendship and belonging. Each student is a part of you, and you are a part of each student. By your friendly personal attitude towards all, you have tied our class and the school together. By working long hours in the school building, you have made its appearance something which anyone connected with Sharon High can be proud of.

DEDICATION

For these reasons the class of 1962 dedicates its yearbook to you, Otto Latzel, because you mean so much to all of us.

An abstract geometric composition featuring a light cream-colored background. Two thick black vertical lines are positioned on the left and right sides. A large, light gray square is located in the upper left quadrant. A smaller black square is in the upper right. A horizontal light gray rectangle in the lower right contains the word "FACULTY" in a black serif font. A black rectangle is in the lower left.

FACULTY

ITH DEEP APPRECIATION

Mr. Herman H. Richardson
Superintendent

In appreciation of Mr. Richardson's position as Superintendent of the Sharon Public Schools for the past twelve years, we are pleased to distinguish ourselves as the first class to complete our educational development from Grade 1 through Grade 12 under his capable jurisdiction. During his administration the town has seen a remarkable growth in its school population, leaving the Class of 1962 the last small class to graduate under him.

As the first class to have completed four years at Sharon High School with Mr. Dowd as principal, we wish to acknowledge our earnest appreciation for his able leadership and administration of students, faculty, recreation, and educational growth. In the past four years Sharon High School has progressed much in educational aims, in dignity, and in the general appearance of the institution. We are pleased to credit him with the integrity of our school.

MR. JAMES J. DOWD
Principal

. . . FOR DEDICATED SERVICE

Mrs. Lillian Reardon

We the Class of 1962 would like to express our sincere appreciation to our class advisors Mr. Downing and Mrs. Reardon. Starting with our Freshman Dance "Mardi Gras," through the Sophomore Hop, class rings, and "Dutch Treat," they steadily guided us towards the largest social function of the school year, our Junior Prom "Moulin Rouge." This, our final year, they have worked harder than ever before on senior pictures, the "Soccer Ball," "Ask Any Girl" our Senior Play, and on all the little details which are leading to Graduation.

Mr. Everett Downing

The administration, aside from our superintendent and principal, consists of our vice-principal, Mr. Francis P. Roman, and our Guidance Department: Mr. John O. Barrows and Miss Marion Haley and their respective secretaries. It is the function of the Guidance Department to help each pupil make the most of his high school career and plan his future.

SCHOOL SONG

You may talk about your colleges
Fair Harvard and old Yale
And all the Universities
Whose banners fly the gale;
From the azure flag of Cambridge
To old Oxford's royal blue
Which fly in far-off England
Over hearts both brave and true

From the sunny shores of Frisco
Way on down to Portland, Maine;
Away out to the Philippines
And way back home again.
There's no college, university or school could ever show,
So grand, so true, so fine a crew
As students that we know.

Chorus:—

For we're the jolly students of old Sharon High,
Sharon High,
Our colors are maroon and gold,
We bear the stars and stripes of our America
 rah, rah, rah; rah, rah, rah!
We're the students true and bold

(Repeat Chorus)

CLASS OF 1963

JUNIOR CLASS

The junior class is the smartest class in the school, filled with brilliant students—just ask any junior.

Advised ably by Mr. Marcus and Mrs. Rivkin, the class of '63 has leaped over many of the hurdles that arise in high school. In fact they seem to do everything athletically and are well-represented on the school's teams. Their Junior Mad Dance opened the Sharon High School social season, and their Junior Prom closed it. They are certainly a credit to Sharon High School.

SOPHOMORES

The signposts all point to great accomplishments for the Sophomore Class. They have so many capable, intelligent students to take the advance courses, and many athletically superior boys and girls for varsity. Their social activities also mirror their imagination, as the Sophomore Hop, "Mother Goose Goes to School," testified. From The Scarlet Letter to Caesar, band to biology, French to formulas, and Latin to logarithms, the Class of '64 ran the full gamut of its year's activities with whirlwind speed and efficiency.

FRESHMEN

Besides adding their prafuse number to Sharon High and making the corridors more crowded, this year's Freshmen have added their scholastic ability, sports skill, caoperation and enthusiasm.

The highlight of the year was the Freshman Dance in May, which nat only successfully culminated their first year, but served as an indication af a cantinuing fruitful high schaal career.

It is representative of the entire student body, consisting of representatives from each home-room, the vice-president of each class, and two Senior members-at large. Under the direction of faculty advisor Mr. Liberman and President Robert Keeling, the Council sponsors many necessary and worthwhile activities in the school, as well as having the important function of maintaining liaison between the students and the faculty.

Throughout the year the Council maintains the supply room in the lobby, and provides student greeters for every period of the day. Among its many other functions, it has the responsibility of distributing honor passes and student identification cards.

Sharon High has an active and efficient Student Council that it can be proud of.

For Outstanding Records of Service, Scholarship, Leadership, Character

Students that have been chosen for membership in the National Honor Society have established outstanding records in the areas of scholarship, service, leadership, and character. New members are tapped in assembly at the beginning of the second term, and are inducted into the society in an impressive candle-lighting ceremony. To be eligible, a student must have achieved a B average; then, those that qualify scholastically, are rated by the faculty on their service, leadership, and character.

To make the student body more aware of the principles of the society, awards are presented to underclassmen who particularly well exemplify the society's qualities. To be of greater service to the school, members of the society have been responsible for the Bible readings at assemblies, and have been used in tutoring capacities.

Membership in the Honor Society is the highest honor any student can attain, and members may well be proud of their achievement.

Drama Club Members Learn Design,

It's only make-believe.

Aspiring actresses and actors and behind-the-scenes artists gained valuable experience in the Dramatics Club this year, under the helpful direction of Mr. Newton and Miss Sanford. Besides helping to present The Valient, Sunday Costs Five Pesos, and the Drama Festival Ploy, the Dramatics Club met to help its members become familiar with set design, make-up, and acting techniques. In addition, members may earn points toward becoming Thespions by working on crews of school productions. Speakers, such as little theater members, who spoke on their experiences, gave the budding Borrymores many professional tips.

The art of public speaking, ever admired and respected, is being further cultivated by the members of the Sharon Debating Club. Through participation in many rounds of interscholastic debates, the members learn the fundamentals of speaking, research methods, thinking on their feet, and rebuttal.

Their tournaments have carried them throughout New England, amassing an impressive number of successes. Further proof of their prowess is the club's high standing in the National Forensic League, an honor society for debaters.

The varsity debating team, ably coached by Mr. Foley, follows a rugged schedule of meets, while the freshmen, under the direction of Mr. Riley, learn the basics and also take part interscholastically.

EAGLE

Due to the large number of members, Eagle meetings moved to the cafeteria this year. There, amidst cries of "But we don't have a lead!" or "The deadline was one week ago!", the demanding but rewarding job of producing a school newspaper gets underway. Assignments are checked, copy is proofed, galleys are corrected, and the dummy is pasted up.

Under Co-Editor Laurie Wax and Diane Namyet, several effective innovations have been made. A photographer has been added in an attempt to liven up the issues with more action pictures, and a handbook was distributed to guide the members in their writing.

Besides tending to the usual concern of putting out a paper, the Eagle sponsored "Headline Hop" and many members participated in various press conferences.

Marsengold Mirrors School Affairs

One of the most important achievements of every graduating class is the completion of the school yearbook, the Marsengold. This year the Seniors have worked long and hard under the able leadership of our Editor-in-chief Lydia Clark and with the help of our Advisor Mr. MacDougall. Our editors began work on the theme and contents in the spring of 1961. Right after the beginning of school the Marsengold staffs were chosen and work was really started in earnest. Finally by early March the Marsengold was completed and sent to press. Now on Class Night 1962 we proudly present the record of a school year which will long be remembered by the students of Sharon High.

Miss Clark Supervises Librarians

Under the capable supervision of Miss Marian Clark, thirty-five girls are learning the responsibilities involved in the work of a librarian. They are learning by doing—their duties include checking books out, reshelving them, assisting students in locating books and materials, and helping arrange seasonal displays. As library assistants, these girls realize that there is much work involved in keeping a neat and useful school library.

With the experience they are gaining now, members of the club may be encouraged to further their library interests in college and pursue careers as librarians.

F. T. A. Members Visit Other Schools

The members of the Future Teachers of America think they might be interested in teaching as a profession. In order to find out more about this profession, they have guest speakers from various colleges who discuss different aspects of teaching. Members of the Ann Sullivan Chapter of the national organization go to other schools to observe the teaching methods in the different elementary grades. Some members have been lucky enough to do substitute teaching.

Audio-Visual Aids Club

The Audio Visual Aids Club is an elite group of servicemen. They are often allowed to get out of study halls and even classes, upon call to duty. Although others may resent this occasional privilege, we cannot overlook the club's great service to the school. Besides the familiar 16 mm sound classroom projects, record players, tape recorder, and opa-gru projector, these people are authorized and responsible to operate all P.A. systems, the stage and auditorium lighting and sound, and the lighting in the gym. The Audio-Visual Aids Club not only takes care of all the schools around, but also handles the necessary equipment on occasions like the John Jay lectures, Lowell Thomas, town movies, and yearly Town Meeting.

Glee Club and Chorus Delight

Discord quickly turns into harmony when practiced by the members of the Glee Club and Girls' Chorus. Under the capable direction of Mrs. Anna Hughes, new to Sharon High this year, these two groups have become better than ever. Several innovations, such as the use of a tape recorder, have been added to improve singing techniques. The clubs strive for quality, and it is clearly evident that they have been extremely successful in this endeavor.

76 Trombones?

Mr. Philip Hoffman

The Sharon High School Bond is an ear pleasing unit of fifty-three boys and girls harmoniously combined to put out great sounds. They convene to practice every Wednesday afternoon and Friday morning so that they may maintain and improve their ability to perform flowlessly on many occasions. We are quite familiar with the Bond's role in our occasional Friday morning assemblies, in the traditional basketball and soccer rallies and in the combined vocal and instrumental music assemblies, but do you recall their other performances? Remember your special Junior High Concert, the gala Memorial Day parade, and the annual public Spring Concert?

The Bondsmen aim to please everybody; if you don't like a march or a classical selection, then wait a bit for a Dixieland or Latin tune or perhaps a popular number like "Peter Gunn."

Training For Future Household Tasks

For all those interested in household "hobbies", the Home Economics Club is the perfect preparation. Here, a future homemaker may learn how to sew a simple or not-so-simple garment, and, as she practices fundamental stitches on the sewing machines, gain some proficiency in the realm of sewing. There is also some cooking done, when the time is available, and the members are urged to prepare, eat, and clean up a meal entirely by themselves. This practical club is especially attractive to college preparatory students who have few other means to learn these tasks.

Learning and Practicing The Elements of Good Writing

Mrs. Katherine Narwaad, Advisor.

The Creative Writing Club is fairly new in Sharon High School, and was started because of an interest in students to learn and practice the elements of good writing. Under the direction of faculty advisor Mrs. Katherine Norwood members are given the instruction and encouragement they need. Highlighting the year is the publication of an annual literary magazine, the Quill, which all the creative writers work hard to prepare, and to which the entire student body is invited to contribute their own literary works.

The art room is open five days a week to accommodate the talented members of the Art Club. Here you may see students work on anything from block prints to fashion sketches. All projects are chosen according to the individual's interest. The club's excellent work is regularly displayed in the high school foyer, and exhibits are also set up at many school functions.

"Moulin Rouge," the Class of 1962's Junior Prom was a new and worthwhile adventure. The Prom was held in the gymnasium for the first time, a timely and difficult project, but one which brought reward, perhaps not in dollars, but doubly in fun. (We are the class that had the best prom in Sharon High School, and lost $300 besides.)

A great part of the excitement was watching the gym turn into a ballroom in the days and nights before the dance; hanging yards and yards of drapes, holding onto gas balloons. And our great reward, the night of the dance, was a Prom to be proud of.

ASK ANY GIRL

As in years before, the Senior Play was presented in November to a nearly filled auditorium. This year the class chose the famous "Ask Any Girl," a comedy which centers around a man-chasing girl in New York. About two thirds of the class participated in the play, either in the actual acting or in the necessary committee and backstage work. Their long hours resulted in a most memorable production.

GIRLS' VARSITY CLUB

The theme of the Girls' Varsity Club should well be "service," for the members are constantly working for the benefit of the school and town. Besides setting up and carrying out intramural programs in basketball, volleyball, and badminton, the girls also sell potato chips at basketball games, bookcovers every morning, and hold car washes annually. These activities not only provide service, but also funds for a donation to the student activity scholarship and for payment of varsity sweaters, an innovation this year.

BOYS' VARSITY CLUB

The Boys' Varsity Club performs many useful services; one of its prime functions is to promote school spirit and sportsmanship. The club is in charge of ticket sales and door guards at Basketball games, it sponsors the annual talent show, and runs the Pep Rallies.

To raise funds the club has a cake sale which is usually very profitable. Each year the club presents an award to an outstanding senior boy, who does not have to be a member of Boys' Varsity, and an award for the outstanding athlete of the year.

Soccer Team Is Sensational

Another spectacular winning season, with a record of nine wins and one loss has again made the soccer team one of the most widely supported at Sharon High. This year we took the South Shore Soccer Championship, and considering that the team, coached by Mr. Blanchon, has only been playing three years, this is an amazing feat.

The combination of enthusiasm, endurance, and skill which both the team and the coach possess make possible this outstanding record we have thus far attained.

BOYS BASKETBALL

Skill, teamwork, and spirit combined to make this year one of the most successful for the "Eagles." Supported by strong reserves, the starters, Chuck Sweetman, Bobby Keeking, Jeff Glover, Donny Arbuckle and Mark Sturman, fought, scored, and won under the expert coaching of Mr. Davenport. As a result of long hard hours of practice, both offensive and defensive plays ran off like clockwork, leaving a delighted audience and increasing school spirit. The Jay Vees, training ground for the Varsity, foretold success in years to come with their great team record.

Gladiators Continue Winning Record

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

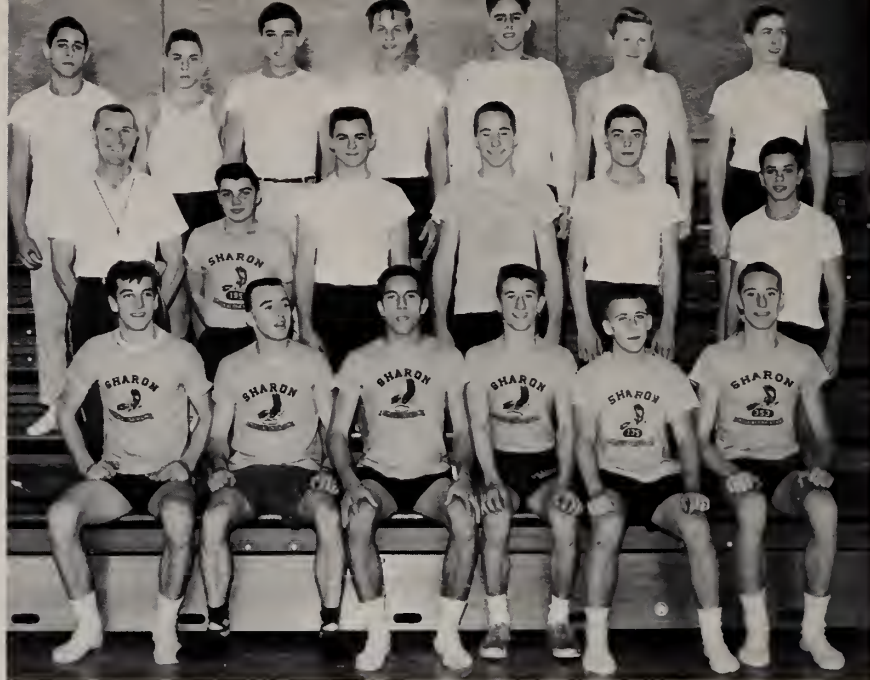

Above all, enthusiasm marked the Gladiators' games as they fought for their new coach, Miss Mueller. Skill was combined with knowledge and practice, as plays were formulated and techniques learned and improved in many weary, but worthwhile hours after school. The season left the girls with a good record and keen sense of spirit and good sportsmanship.

Precise Coordination

The boys' and girls' gymnastics have firmly established themselves as a source of pride to Sharon High School. The hard work and effort which go into practices are rewarded not only by the precision with which the clubs perform on the rings, horse, parallel bars and ropes, but by the enthusiasm and interest of the spectators. The highlight of the year was the Annual Physical Exhibition held in April at which both clubs gave an outstanding performance.

BASEBALL

BOYS BASEBALL

Early in April, the baseball field became the center of increasing activity. The varsity team, under the intensive coaching of Mr. John Blanchon worked hard improving its fielding, batting, and pitching. The Sharon squad completed thirteen games in the Hockomock League. Among the highlights of last year's season were the wins against Foxboro, and Stroughton. Although the team did not experience a very successful year, the players were enthusiastic, and demonstrated a competitive spirit and good sportsmanship.
